

I read the book Iron Man, written by Chris Crutcher. The best word to describe this book is a test. It stands out from other books because of its great journey and how Boo gets ready for the Ironman race. The story is about a teen breaking the boundaries that everyone set for him by completing an Ironman. Some of the highlights from the story are when you find out the problem in the lives of the people in the anger management group. What I won't tell you is all the twists of the journey and the backstory of the characters. I think you would enjoy this book because it really makes you think. Have you read any good books lately?
